

APPOINTMENT OF CHIEF GEOLOGIST GREGORY S COLLINS

IG Copper LLC and Amur Minerals LLC are pleased to announce the appointment of Mr Gregory S Collins as Chief Geologist (IG Group) effective as of May 3rd, 2017.

Mr Collins has been professionally active in the mineral exploration industry for 25 years, having worked in a variety of operational and management positions in that time. He personally led the discovery team of the 8 million ounce Tropicana gold discovery in Western Australia in 2005.

Specialising in developing and managing exploration teams, Mr Collins is ideally suited for the current development requirements of the Malmyzh Project and the exploration of the Group's other tenements in the Russian Far East. He has an appropriate depth of professional knowledge of a wide range of mineral deposit styles, with an emphasis on exploring for copper-gold bearing systems in Russia/Asia/Central Asia.

Mr Collins has spent the past 14 years in management positions in the Mongolian/Chinese/Russian geological environment, most recently as the Exploration Manager (China/Russia) for El Dorado Gold and as such is a very appropriate fit for the supervision of the IG Group's exploration requirements.

As part of his duties as Chief Geologist, Mr Collins will be formulating exploration and development programs for the Malmyzh and other projects in the IG Group. He will be directly supervising all of the geological and geotechnical staff of the group and ensuring the international standards of the Group's programs.

"We are delighted that Greg has decided to join us at this stage of our development", said Tom Bowens, CEO of the IG Group. "He will add immense value to the development of the Malmyzh Project and our other exploration activities in the Far East".

More details of Mr Collins' qualifications can be found on the management page of the company's website (www.igcopper.net)
